1 PROJECT BRIEF

1.1. Aims and Objectives

The aim of the project is to provide visitor attraction intelligence on the recovery following COVID-19 by:

- Undertaking visitor attraction interviews using an online questionnaire
- Analysing the captured data
- Producing a report of findings to include tabular and graphical representations.

1.2. Background

Coronavirus (COVID-19) has had a significant impact on the Scottish Tourism industry with the vast majority of Visitor Attractions closing in Mid-March 2020. With the announcement by the Cabinet Secretary for Rural Economy & Tourism, Fergus Ewing, of the date 15th July for the reopening of the tourism industry, the Moffat Centre and ASVA asked all Scottish attractions to complete a brief survey to provide data on anticipated reopening.

1.3. Methodology

A research tool in the form of a questionnaire was designed in collaboration with ASVA. A link to an online survey was sent out by email to all Scottish visitor attractions, at the end of June 2020. The following sections of the report present the findings graphically and in tabular format.

2 SURVEY DATA ANALYSIS

2.1.1 Responding sample

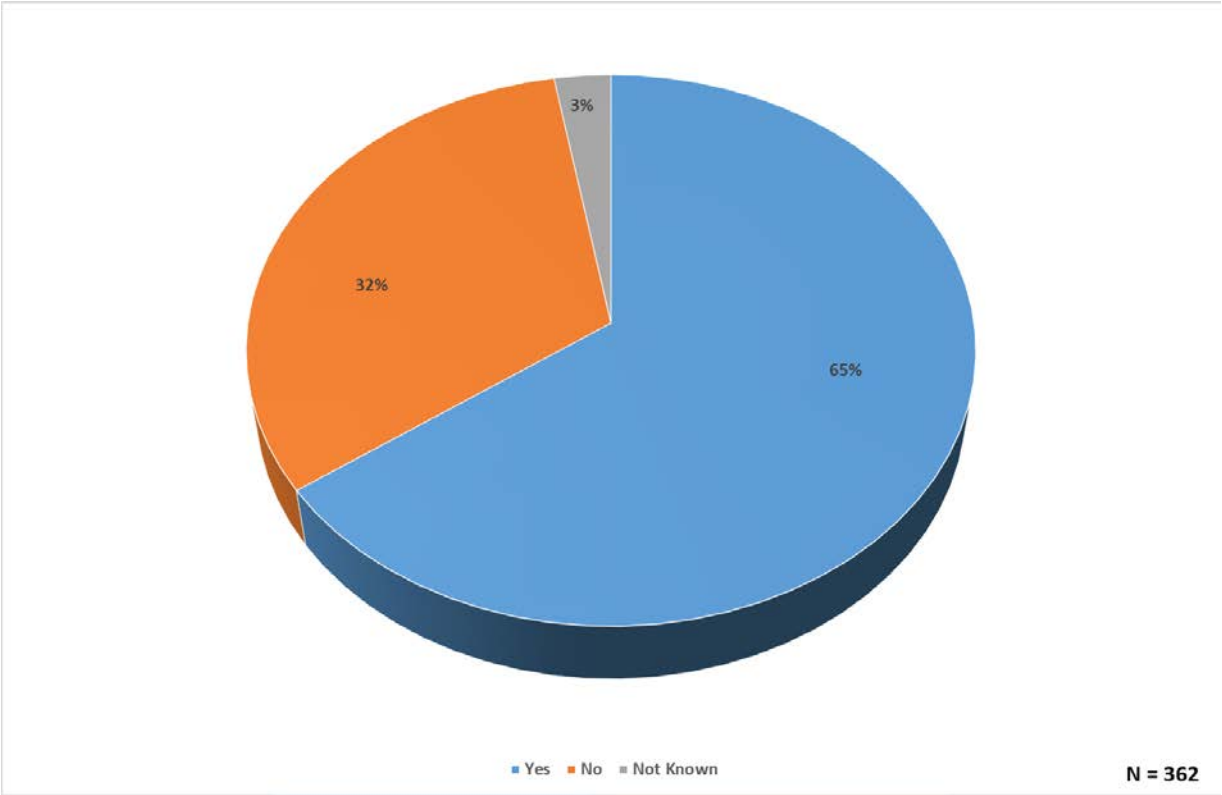

The online survey was sent out by email to 859 Scottish visitor attractions with respondents being asked to provide data in relation to the reopening of their attraction, a total of 362 surveys were completed out over a ten day period in June/July 2020, this equates to a 42.1% response rate.

2.2. Attraction Information

2.2.1 Attractions Reopening

Figure 2.1 below presents the 'reopening status' of all respondents. The majority of respondents (65.2%) believed their attraction would be reopening in 2020, with just under 3% awaiting further clarification to confirm their plans to open.

2.2.2 Type of Opening

Of the 246 respondents who stated that they were opening/awaiting confirmation, 42.7% of respondents indicated that they were opening fully, whilst 34.5% identified that they would be partially opening (parts of the attraction opening i.e. Garden opening with Historic House remaining closed).

2.2.3 Anticipated Date of Opening

Respondents were asked what their anticipated date of reopening would be. Figure 2.4 shows a breakdown by week when the attractions anticipated opening. The breakdown highlights that just under 60% of attractions anticipate opening by the end of July, whilst just under a fifth of attractions were awaiting further clarification before confirming a date for reopening.

2.2.4 On-line Booking System

Respondents were asked if they would be using an on-line booking system when they open. Over a third of attractions stated they would be using the system, whilst over half of respondents had stated they would not be using an on-line booking system. Clearly, having on-line reservation systems is advantageous. It should be noted, in their sectoral guidance for the tourism & hospitality sector, the Scottish Government have recommended that businesses look at introducing measures to manage capacities at their sites. One of the most effective ways to do this is to introduce an online booking service. Advice from VisitScotland on this topic is available at this link -

<https://www.visitscotland.org/supporting-your-business/advice/coronavirus/digital-guidance/digital-checklist>

2.2.5 Timed Ticket

Some 31.7% of respondents confirmed that entry to the attraction will be by a timed ticket, whilst 28.9% of attractions will not be offering this service. Again technology can help here. Advice from sites already opened in England and Scotland suggests that, for most sites, the entrance is a bottle neck and timed ticketing really helps to spread out arrivals and manage capacities, but be flexible to let people in before their slot to reduce queues.

2.2.6 Retail and/or Catering Facilities

Just over two thirds of respondents have retail and/or catering facilities at their attractions.

Figure 2.7 Retail and or Catering Facilities

2.2.7 Facilities Available on Opening

The respondents were asked which of their facilities they planned to provide on reopening. Of the 171 respondents that had catering and/or retail facilities at their attractions, 134 attractions stated they would be offering some or all facilities. This was broken down as follows;

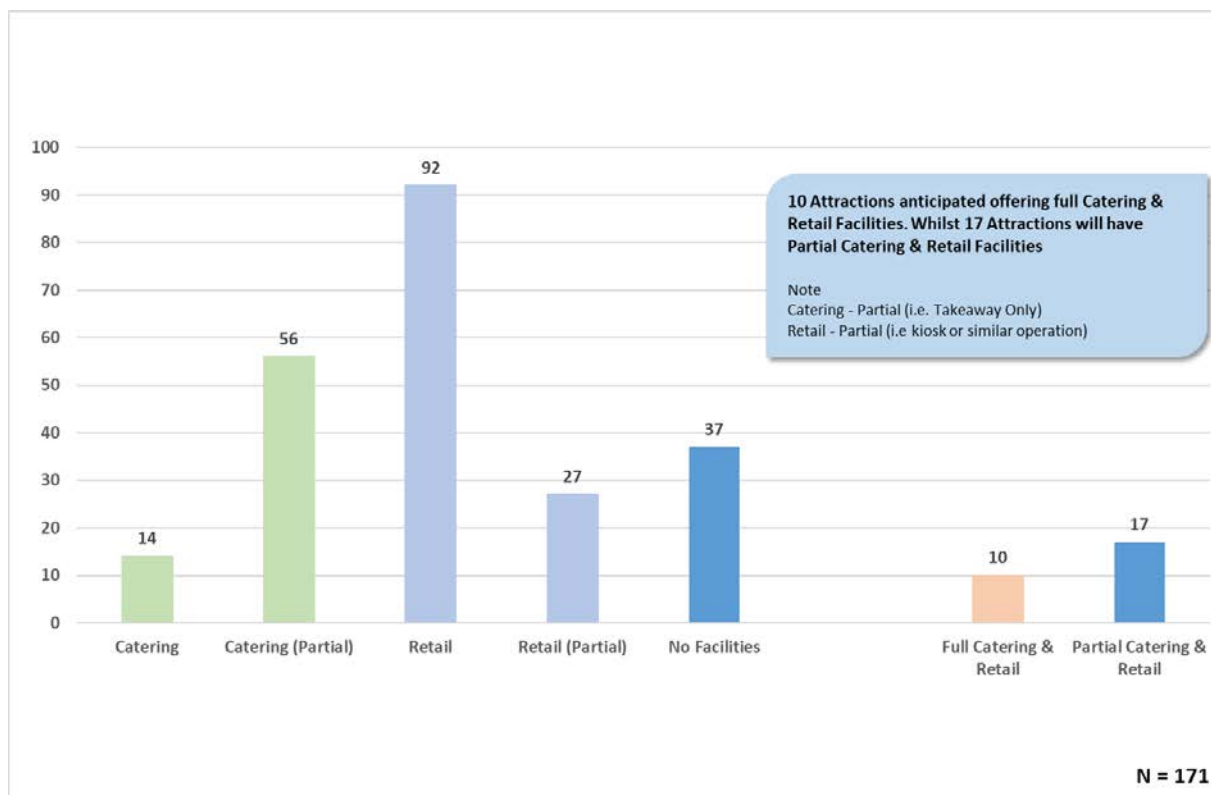

- Catering
- Catering (Partial)*
- Retail/Shop
- Retail/Shop (Partial)
- No facilities available

*Catering - Partial (i.e. Takeaway Only)

Retail - Partial (i.e. kiosk or similar operation)

10 of respondents will offer full catering and retail facilities, whilst just under half the attractions will offer full retail facilities. 17 attractions will not offer any facilities on opening. Design is the issue here but this will change as we progress through reopening phases.

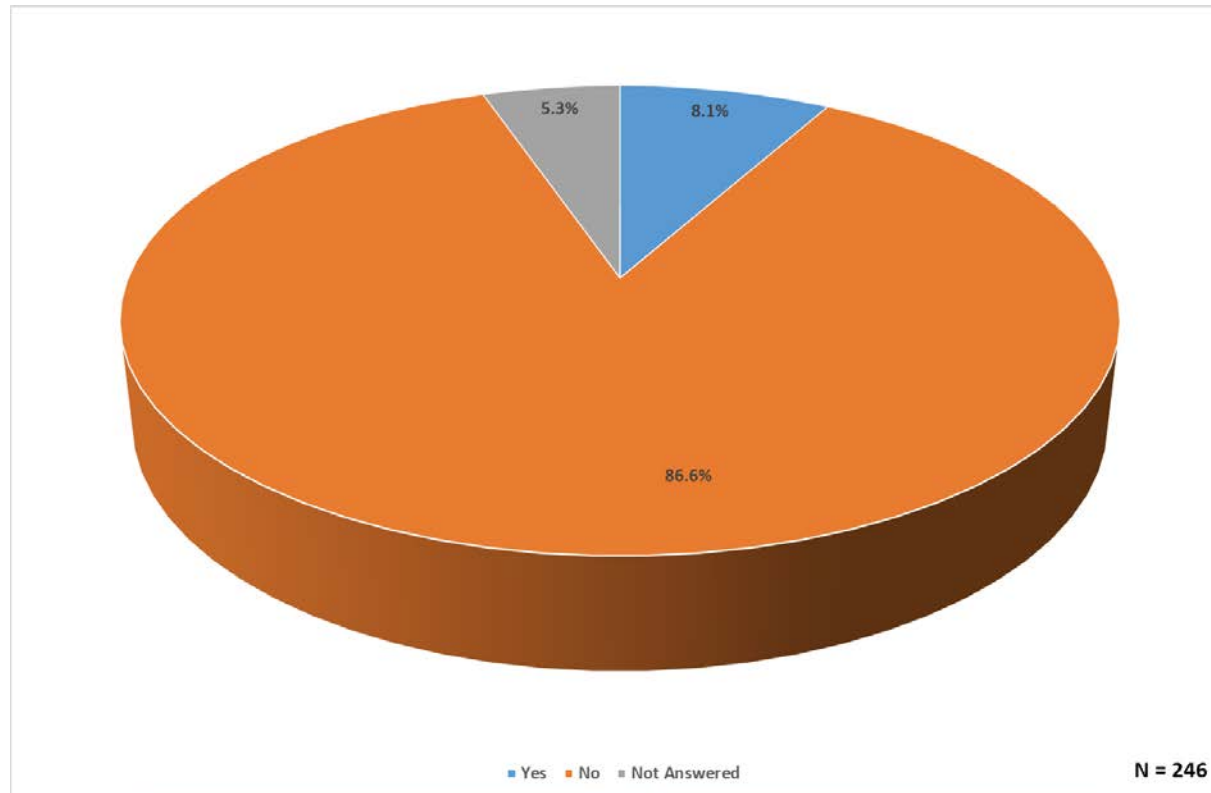

Figure 2.8 Facilities Available on Opening

2.2.8 Forward Bookings

Over 85% of respondents had not taken any forward bookings prior to reopening. Technology an issue?

2.2.9 Forward Bookings in Comparison with same time in 2019

Some 20 respondents answered this questions, of those 15 noticed an increase in forward bookings compared with the same time in 2019.

2.2.10 Location of Attractions by VisitScotland Region

The VisitScotland Region of Argyll, Loch Lomond & The Forth Valley (AR) submitted the highest number of responses (57) and also had the highest percentage (11.3%) of attractions that planned to open again in 2020, however it also had the highest percentage (4.4%) of attractions not opening again in 2020.

2.2.11 Attraction Category

The Attraction Category of Museums/Art Galleries submitted the highest number of responses (86) and also had the highest percentage (16.9%) of attractions that plan to open again in 2020. The Attraction Category of Other Historic Properties had the highest percentage (7.5%) of attractions not opening again in 2020.

2.2.12 Paid & Free Attractions

Of the 362 Respondents, 216 of these are a paid attraction, of this just 141 of paid attractions that are planning to open in 2020. Of the 146 Free attractions that responded 105 of them plan to re-open this year.

2.2.13 Geographical Location of Attractions

Of the 362 Respondents, over a half are located in Accessible Rural (98) or Remote Rural (117) locations, with just over a quarter of all attractions located in Large or Other Urban Areas (47 and 56 respectively). Attractions in the Remote Rural Areas had the highest number of attractions (74) that plan to open again in 2020, however it also had the highest number (43) of attractions not opening again in 2020.

Scottish Government's 2013-2014 Urban Rural Classification

2.2.14 Volume of Visits

54 of the 58 Respondent attractions with over 100,000 visits yearly plan to open again in 2020. Of the 73 Respondents with up to 4,999 visits yearly 44 attractions would not be opening again in 2020. Clearly smaller attractions who have lost 50% plus of the season cannot afford to re-open – sourcing staff and volunteer's problematic this late in season.

Updated using the Moffat Centre Scottish Visitor Attraction Monitor 2019*

2.2.15 Location of Attractions by Local Authority Area

The Highland Local Authority submitted the highest number of responses (48) and also had the highest percentage (11.0%) of attractions that planned to open again in 2020. The Local Authority area of Dumfries & Galloway had the highest percentage (4.1%) of attractions not opening again in 2020. It should be noted that the Local Authority graph has been split into two for ease of reading.
